Join me this November for a Photo Safari in beautiful South Africa. I'll be leading this Safari with Kevin and Tricia Dooley of Idube Photo Safari , and it's an excursion you won't want to miss. There's limited capacity for this Safari, so if you're able, contact me soon using the form at the bottom of this page to sign up.

On the first night in South Africa we will be staying at the Lesedi Cultural Village . For the remainder of our Safari we will be at the Thakadu River Camp

. Both locations provide luxurious and traditionally-styled accommodations for you to enjoy.

I'm a very lucky fellow and my luck often rubs off on others – several photographers who have gone on a safari with me have returned home with stories of exceptional sightings and prize-winning photography. I'll strive to spend one-on-one time with all of our Safari guests, advising each on the skills and methods necessary to become a better wildlife photographer. I'll be covering topics such as composition, exposure, and the art of the photo essay. During our midday downtime I'll be available for constructive image reviews.

Dates:

Depart from the USA for Johannesburg on November 12, 2013.

Bruce Dorn, Raconteur and Photographer

Bruce Dorn, DGA, began his photographic career as a still photographer for Condé Nast Publishing and Time/Life in the early seventies. After a segue from fashion and photojournalism into advertising work, Bruce added commercial filmmaking to his resume in the early eighties. Bruce's television commercial campaigns have earned him multiple Clios, Mobius, Addy, and Art Directors Club Awards along with a Bronze Lion from Cannes. Bruce is a Canon Explorer of Light, a Western Digital Creative Master, a Tiffen ImageMaker, and a Corel Painter Master. In 1984, Bruce was inducted into the Directors Guild of America.
